

APVC 2026 Speaker Sponsorship Opportunities Appendix

1. Email registration forms as soon as possible. Every year potential exhibitors are turned away from exhibiting at APVC due to restricted space. APVC committee also completed a delegate survey in 2024 to better understand the exhibitor category interest level from the delegates perspective, and we will consider this data when making exhibitor participation decisions moving forward.
2. Understanding that loyalty to APVC over time and sponsorship level offered matter, booths are granted first based on exhibitor category fit, then to sponsors at the platinum, gold and silver levels, then to exhibitors who have been with us in the past, and fourth to new registrants. New registrants will be considered, first on exhibitor category fit, secondly on sponsorship level and thirdly on an earliest registration submission basis. Having exhibited the previous year doesn't automatically guarantee participation the following year as per the above conditions, and if you send in your registration and there isn't an available booth space, your company will be placed on a waiting list for this year's conference. Payment will not be processed until booth space is available.
3. Once approved for participation your sponsorship ranking will be determined solely by the total sponsorship commitment value. A company sponsoring $11,000 will have sponsorship opportunity priority over a company sponsoring $10,000, even though both are classified as platinum sponsors, and therefore be provided the opportunity of first selection of their sponsorship choices, followed by the second ranked sponsor and so on. Speaker and other sponsorship opportunities selected (see associated document) are combined to determine sponsorship ranking.
4. Sponsors will be granted prime locations in the exhibit areas.

Dr. Julia Miller, DVM, DACVD

Bio

Dr. Julia Miller is a board-certified veterinary dermatologist who loves all creatures great and small and has had many interests in life! She was an opera major at Indiana University, became a certified farrier after graduation, and then went on to earn her veterinary degree from Cornell University. Initially, she wanted to be an Equine Podiatrist so she completed a large animal rotating internship at the University of Georgia. Her passion for preventative medicine sent her into mixed small and large animal general practice for several years before returning to Cornell to complete her dermatology residency.

She became a Diplomate of the American College of Veterinary Dermatologists in 2019 and stayed on at Cornell as an assistant clinical professor in the section of Dermatology where she was awarded the Zoetis Distinguished Teacher Award. She is now enjoying private practice life surrounded by horses and bourbon in beautiful Louisville KY. Dr. Julia has a special interest in the management of chronic otitis externa, and all things related to large animal skin disease (especially horses).

Heather Prendergast, RVT, CVPM, SPHR

Bio

With over three decades of experience in the veterinary profession, Heather Prendergast brings a rare combination of clinical know-how, management expertise, and a deep passion for developing thriving teams. Having spent more than 20 years in small animal practice, she understands the daily realities of veterinary teams—and how to lead them toward lasting success.

Heather is the author of two cornerstone texts in the veterinary industry: Practice Management for the Veterinary Team (now in its 4th edition), used in veterinary technology programs across the U.S. Review Questions and Answers for Veterinary Technicians (currently in its 7th edition), a trusted study companion for thousands of VTNE candidates. As the founder of Synergie Veterinary Consulting Group, Heather leads a powerhouse team of credentialed veterinary technicians, CVPMs, DVMs, and talent strategists who specialize in building emotionally intelligent leaders, improving operational efficiency, and transforming veterinary culture from the inside out. When she's not consulting, lecturing, or writing, Heather teaches Practice Management courses with the Appalachian State University Veterinary Technology Program. She also gives back to the profession through leadership and committee roles with NAVTA and VetPartners. Heather recently served as President of the Viticus Group (formerly WVC) and continues her service as Treasurer, further demonstrating her commitment to elevating veterinary medicine at every level.
